Gulfstream selects IWG Water Treatment Devices for G500 and G600 aircraft

12th November, 2014

Burnaby, BC, Canada – IWG Technologies, Inc. (IWG) announced today that its subsidiary, International Water-Guard Industries Inc. (IWG-I), has been selected to provide the latest version of the IWG-A6 water treatment device for installation Gulfstream Aerospace Corporation's (Gulfstream) newest large cabin, long range business jets – the G500 and G600.

IWG-I has been a proud supplier of water treatment technology to Gulfstream for more than 20 years and is extremely pleased to see Gulfstream continue to lead the industry with the installation of potable water treatment devices as standard fit with a single NPS-A6 on G450 & G550, and a dual IWG-A6 installation on the G650, G500 & G600.

"IWG recognizes Gulfstream as one of the leading innovators in business aircraft and it is exciting to see how our products are evolving together. Business aircraft operate in and out of a wide variety of locations around the globe and high quality onboard water needs to be consistent no matter where the aircraft picks up its water." says Darryl Jacobs, President of International Water Guard Industries Inc.

Gulfstream Aerospace Corporation designs, develops, manufactures, markets, services and supports the world's most technologically advanced business-jet aircraft. Gulfstream has produced more than 2,200 aircraft for customers around the world since 1958.

IWG Technologies, Inc. is the public holding company for International Water-Guard Industries Inc., a Canadian aerospace company focused on aircraft potable water treatment, water systems, water heaters and components. IWG has expertise in all aspects of water treatment, has the products and know-how to provide high quality water for passengers and crew, and lightweight, space-saving solutions for the aircraft operator.
